Department Of Biomedical Engineering

IBSC Professional Society Membership Drive

The Department of Biomedical Engineering is a partner in IBSC to put in place an equivalence system of value-based assessment covering educational training, work experience and competency possessed by practitioners of biomedical engineering skills.

IBSC Certification Benefits:

BME students / engineers will learn and gain in-depth knowledge on all medical devices, calibration and relevant areas.

IBSC certification will give recognition to Indian biomedical engineers based on their years of experience, education and competency levels.
